However, GitHub has expanded beyond just software development!

GitHub is a platform for collaboration. Originally, it was created for developers to store code and work together on projects

WHAT'S A GITHUB?

GITHUB

Think of GitHub as an online storage space for files where you can keep and share your work with others

- Google Drive
- DropBox
- OneDrive
- iCloud

GITHUB

What kind of files?

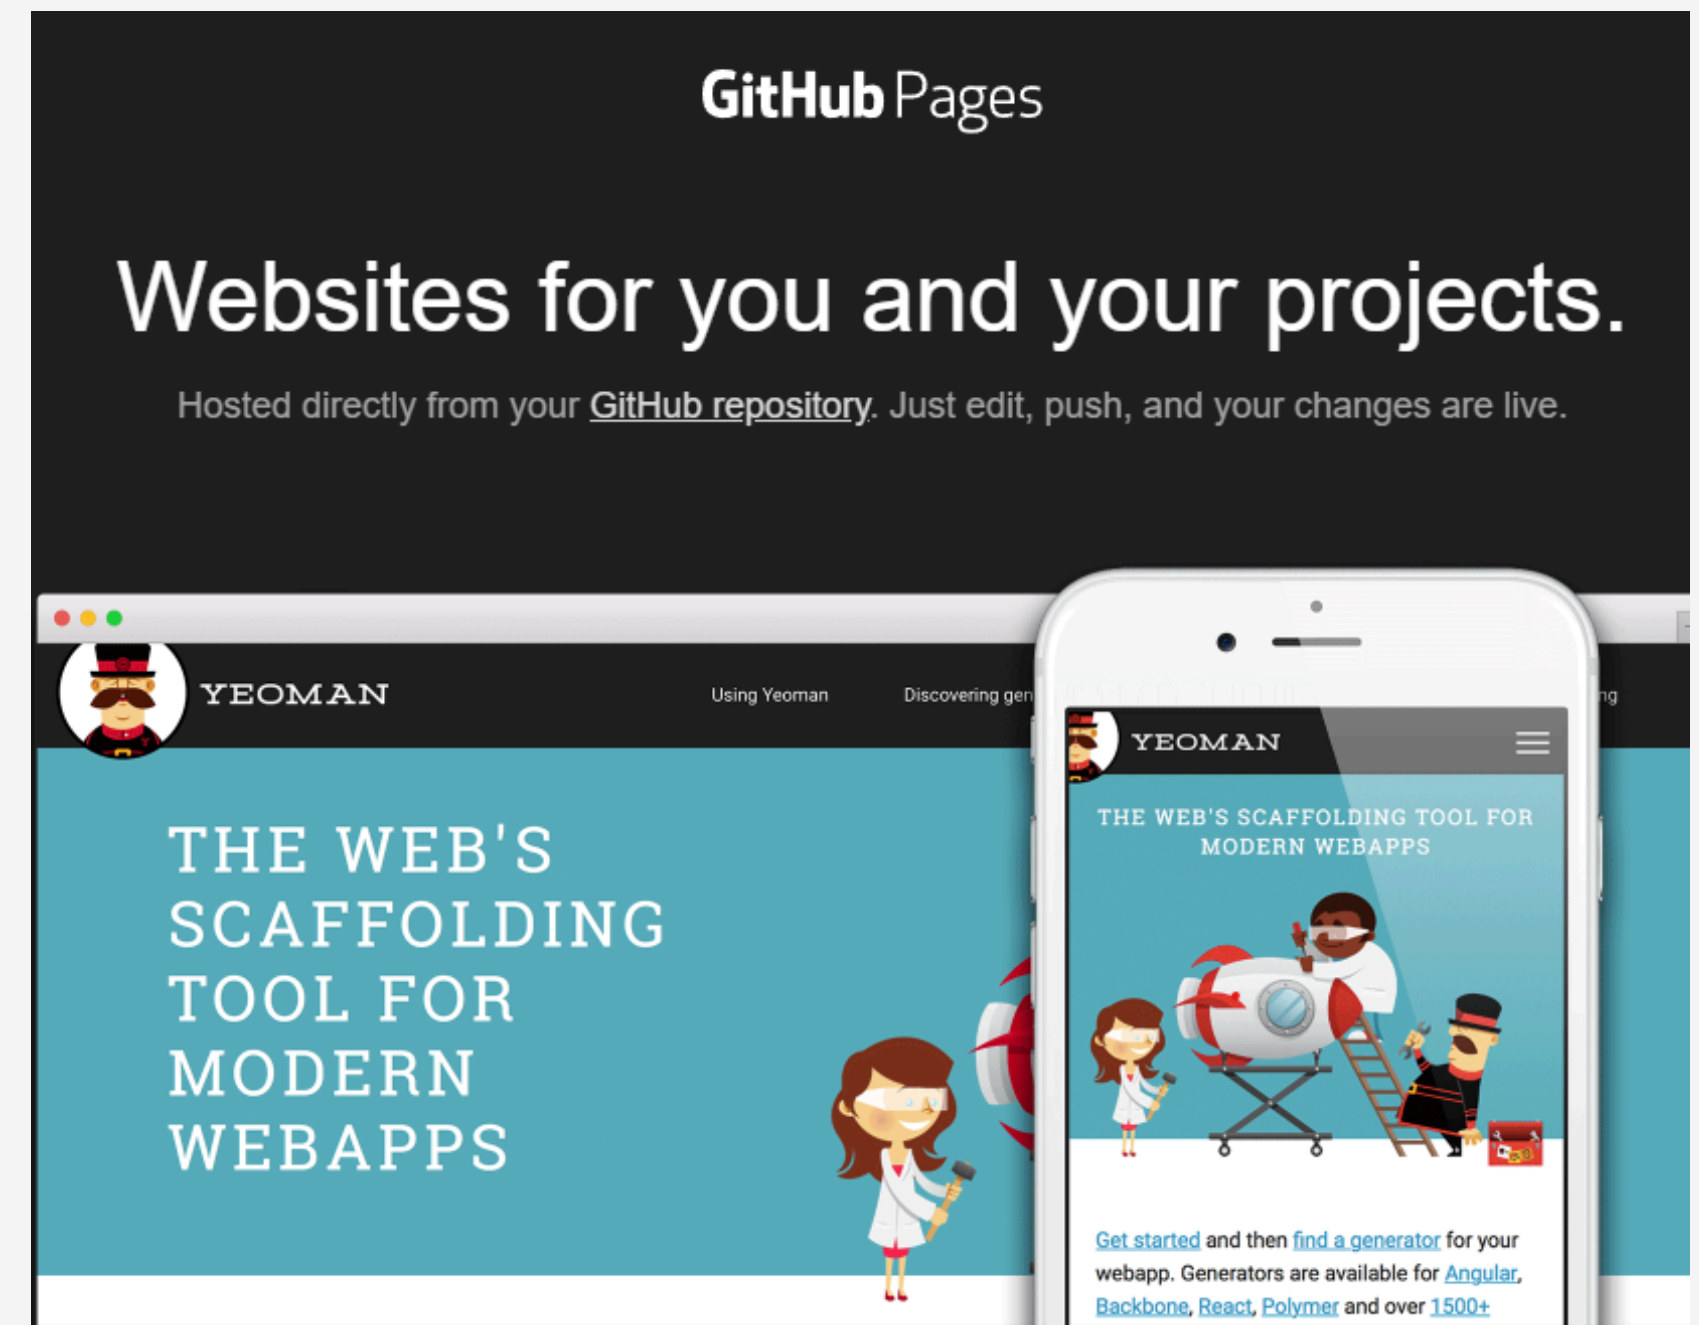

- Documents (.pdf, .doc)
- Images/Videos
- Audio
- Code
- Design

GitHub also gives us features!

GITHUB PAGES

Let anyone turn their files into a FREE, personal website—no coding solutions are available!

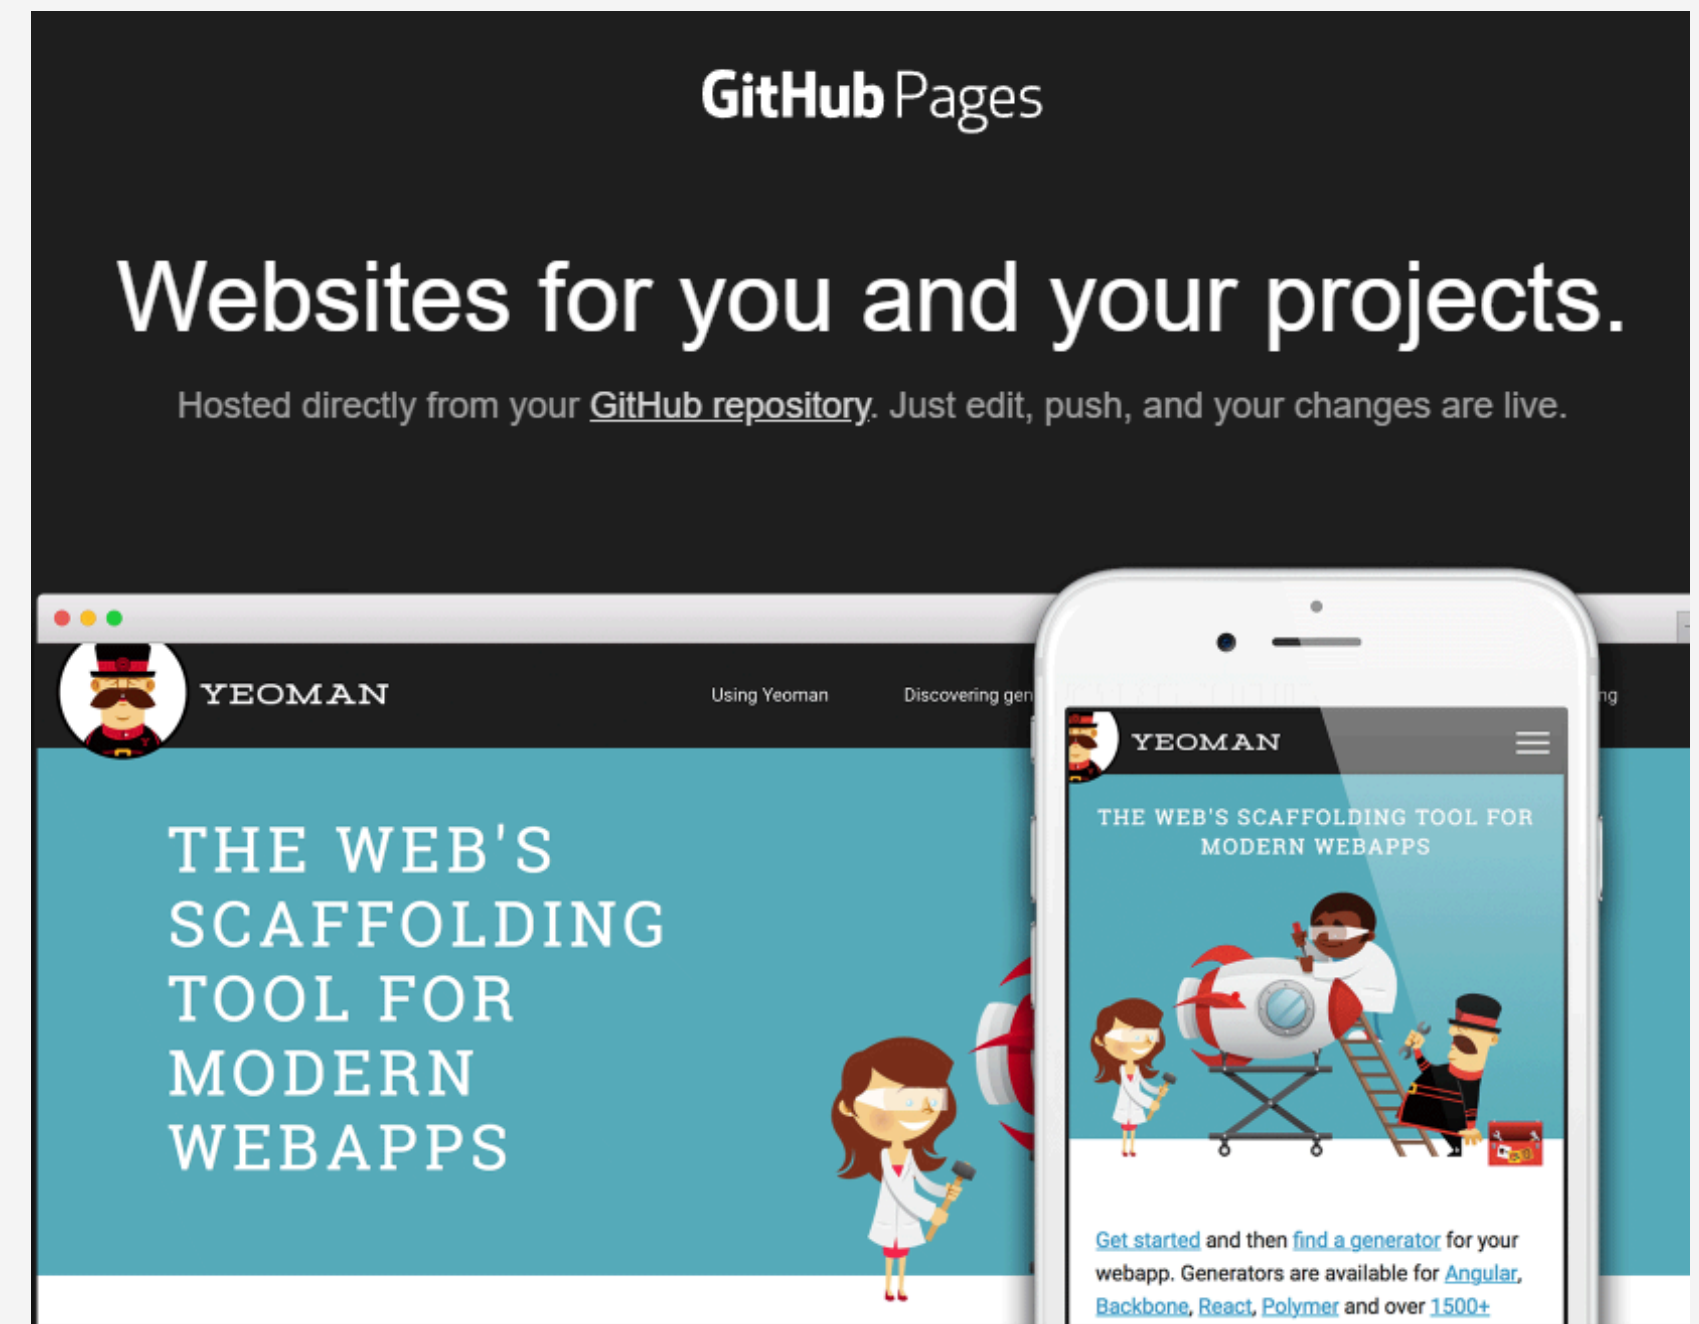

The screenshot displays the GitHub Pages interface. At the top right, the text "GitHub Pages" is visible. Below it, the main heading reads "Websites for you and your projects." followed by the subtext "Hosted directly from your GitHub repository. Just edit, push, and your changes are live." The main content area shows a desktop browser window and a smartphone. Both display the Yeoman website, which features a teal header with the "YEOMAN" logo and navigation links. The main text on the desktop view says "THE WEB'S SCAFFOLDING TOOL FOR MODERN WEBAPPS" and includes an illustration of a woman in a lab coat. The smartphone view shows the same content adapted for a smaller screen, with a hamburger menu icon in the top right corner. Below the smartphone, there is a small white button with a right-pointing arrow.

Ideal for personal portfolios, project documentation, blogs, or even simple business websites.
